

Call for Papers

Diversity, Inclusion and Multidisciplinary in European Studies – DIMES

5-6 March 2020

UACES is pleased to announce a call for papers for its inaugural DIMES workshop taking place at the University of Leiden, The Netherlands on 5-6 March 2020, in conjunction with ESA-SSA (European Studies Association of Sub-Saharan Africa). This event will bring together academics from across the international community, where they will work together to produce a range of outputs that afford visibility to underrepresented perspectives and voices in the discipline of European Studies.

Call for Papers

We welcome submissions on the topic: 'Beyond a Eurocentric Approach: Interactions between the Global South and Europe'. Submissions should take into account the key concerns of the DIMES project. We welcome submissions from academics from all backgrounds and would be particularly interested to hear from those with an interest in the intersection between European Studies and decolonisation and academics from the Global South.

Submissions should be made by email by 20 December 2019 to admin@uaces.org and include:

- Title of the submission
- Abstract of up to 300 words
- Contact details and a brief biography (up to 150 words) for each author.

Due to the time required for visa applications we are closing the call for papers in December to allow for successful applicants to ensure they have the necessary documentation in place.

Funding

All attendees will be provided with two nights' accommodation free of charge. Applications for grants covering travel and visa costs will be considered on a case by case basis. UACES will prioritise early career researchers and those without access to additional funding.

Workshop Participants

You can attend the workshop without presenting a paper and funding may still be available. Click here to find out more.
